About Toastmasters International & District 37

Toastmasters International is a globally recognized nonprofit educational organization, 501(c)(3), dedicated to developing confident communicators and effective leaders with clubs in more than 140 countries. District 37 serves the western half of North Carolina from Greensboro to the west of the North Carolina boarder and supports 1,083 members across community, corporate, and collegiate Toastmasters clubs.

2026 Conference Information

May 1, 2nd 2026

Great Wolf Lodge, 10175 Weddington Road, Concord, NC.

Theme: Be the super leader you are

The conference features: Inspiring keynote speakers – Ed Tate World champion of public speaking and Ramona Baylor Region 7 International Director, Skill-building educational workshops, Networking with engaged, growth-oriented professionals and District-level speech contests. The conference space provides a large foyer where applicable sponsors will get a table to present their company.

Winners of the District speech contests advance along the Toastmasters International pathway toward the World Championship of Public Speaking®, providing a direct connection between this local event and a globally recognized leadership journey.

Audience & Reach

- Expected in-person attendance: 75–125 highly engaged members, representing typically the most active leaders, officers, and high-potential members.
- Open House – May 1, 2026: A community-facing event open to non-Toastmasters, offering sponsors exposure beyond the membership.
- Extended visibility beyond the conference:
  - Inclusion in the June District newsletter distributed to all 1,083 members
  - Sponsor recognition and links included in the online conference program

Why Local Companies Partner with Toastmasters

Local companies partner with Toastmasters because it develops essential leadership and communication skills that directly support workforce readiness and organizational success.

Toastmaster members are engaged professionals committed to continuous growth, many of whom hold—or are preparing for—leadership roles within their organizations. Sponsoring the District 37 Annual Conference connects companies with a focused audience of motivated leaders while demonstrating a commitment to professional development and community investment.

By supporting Toastmasters, local companies invest in confident communicators, effective leaders, and stronger workplaces across Western North Carolina.
